

FROM POVERTY TO POWER

HOW ACTIVE CITIZENS
AND EFFECTIVE STATES
CAN CHANGE THE WORLD

"In telling us what can be achieved by ordinary people through organized action, this book generates hope even as it enhances understanding of what is involved in the removal of poverty. The world does need hope as well as the know-how, and we have reason to be grateful for what we get from this important study of a rich collection of collaborative social action."

Amartya Sen, Economist and Nobel Prize Winner

□
Author Presentation:

DUNCAN GREEN

Head of Research
Oxfam Great Britain

□
Discussant:

JOHN SEWELL

Senior Scholar, Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars
Chair, Board of New Rules for Global Finance

November 19, 2008
12:00-2:00 PM

Preston Auditorium
World Bank Main Complex
1818 H Street, NW