Introduction

This document should be read in conjunction with the International Development Association's (IDA) financial statements and management's discussion and analysis issued for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013. IDA undertakes no obligation to update any forward looking statements. Box1 provides IDA's selected financial data as of and for the six months ended December 31, 2013 and December 31, 2012 as well as for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013.

I. Basis of Reporting

IDA prepares its financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP), referred to in this document as the "reported basis". The financial statements provide a basis upon which users are able to analyze IDA's sources and uses of resources. Under the reported basis, IDA's Statement of Income does not reflect the true economic results of IDA due to a number of asymmetries, which are explained in detail in the Management's Discussion and Analysis (MD&A) for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013.

II. Sources and Applications of Funds

IDA's lending, grant financing and guarantee activities are funded by partner and internal resources, and transfers and grants from affiliated organizations. These key activities are presented and discussed below.

Sources of Funds

Partner Resources (Subscriptions and Contributions): IDA finances its new commitments for development credits and development grants primarily through partner resources. The partner resources are in the form of subscriptions and contributions with assigned voting rights.

Internal Resources: These comprise contractual principal repayments (including any accelerated repayments and voluntary prepayments), interest income on blend credits and income from the investment portfolio.

Transfers and Grants from affiliated organizations and trust funds: These are primarily transfers from the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development's (IBRD) net income and grants from the International Finance Corporation's (IFC) retained earnings.

Applications of Funds

Disbursement of development credits and grants: Through its development operations, IDA's development credits, development grants and guarantees benefit the poorest and least creditworthy members.

Administrative Expenses

IDA's policy is to maintain its service and commitment charges at a level that will cover its cash based administrative expenses. Cash based administrative expenses differ from the reported administrative expenses which are accounted for on an accrual basis. Commitment charges are set annually and take into account the extent to which service and certain interest charges, and partner compensation for development grant financing and forgone charges on development credits forgiven under the Heavily Indebted Poor Country Initiative (HIPC) and the Multilateral Debt Relief Initiative (MDRI), cover cash based administrative expenses.

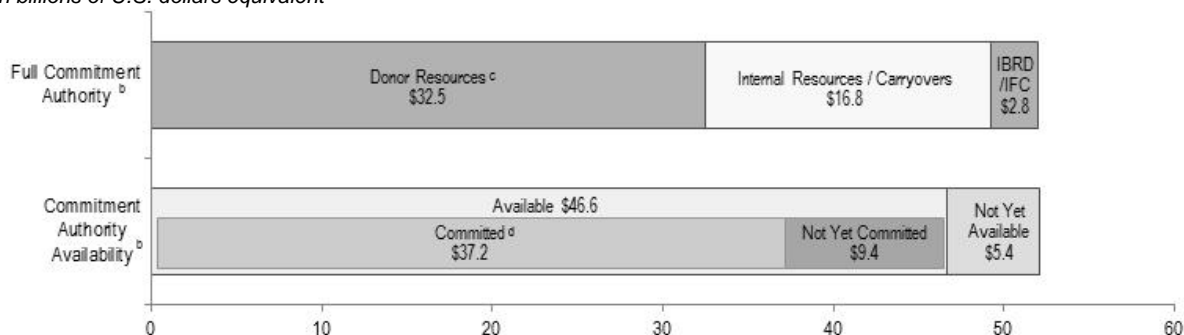

III. Commitment Authority

With six months remaining under the IDA16 replenishment period, cumulative commitments made under IDA16 as of December 31, 2013 amounted to approximately 80% of the available IDA16 lending envelope of SDR 30.3 billion (USD Eq. 46.6 billion).

Chart 1 provides a breakdown of the principal sources making up the total lending envelope under the revised IDA16 Commitment Authority Framework and the extent to which these sources have been used for commitments of development credits, grants and guarantees through December 31, 2013.

Chart 1 : IDA16 Commitment Authority Status

In billions of U.S. dollars equivalent ^a

a. Commitment Authority is measured and monitored in SDR. The chart represents the U.S. dollar equivalent amounts based on USD/SDR exchange rate at December 31, 2013 for presentational purposes only. Actual commitments are recorded based on historical USD rates.

b. Amounts may not add due to rounding.

c. Includes U.S. dollar equivalent 5.4 billion of partner commitments for compensation of debt relief provided under MDRI.

d. IDA16 guarantee commitments to date totaled $548 million, of which only 25% ($137 million) is used for the purposes of the Commitment Authority.

In December 2013, a global coalition of 46 developed and developing country partners pledged contributions towards the estimated USD Eq. $52 billion lending envelope of IDA17, which runs from July 1, 2014 to June 30, 2017. IBRD and IFC are expected to provide close to $3 billion towards the IDA17 lending envelope.

IV. Statement of Activities Analysis

The Statement of Activities (Table 1) is designed to reflect how IDA manages its sources and applications of funds in executing its operating activities, and thereby ensure that it has sufficient funds available to conduct its development operations. The Statement of Activities presents the cash flows associated with IDA's operating activities. This presentation addresses the asymmetries (explained in detail in IDA's June 30, 2013 MD&A) embedded in IDA's reported basis results.

The reconciliation between the results from operating activities and the reported basis results is shown with the Statement of Activities. The reconciling items are presented as either (i) items in the reported basis results but not included in the Statement of Activities, or (ii) items included in the Statement of Activities but not in the reported basis results. These are further classified as: addressing asymmetries, adjustments to reflect cash and non-cash operating activities, and adjustments for non-operating activities.

Results from Operating Activities

IDA's operating activities resulted in a net cash outflow of $1,686 million for the six months ended December 31, 2013 (FY 2014 YTD). This primarily reflects the $5,561 million of outflows for disbursements, partially offset by $1,325 million of cash receipts relating to members' subscriptions and contributions and $1,689 million of cash receipts relating to principal repayments. IDA typically incurs a net cash outflow during the first six months of the fiscal year, followed by net cash inflows in the following six months when the majority of partner contributions are received.

Following the results of operating activities, IDA's core liquidity position as of December 31, 2013 is sufficient to cover approximately nine months of average monthly gross disbursements, slightly lower than the historical range of 10 to 14 months for the fiscal years ending June 30, 2010 through 2013. See Section VII for more details on IDA's core liquidity position.

IDA's funding position at December 31, 2013 and June 30, 2013 was 79%. The remaining funding gap will primarily be covered by future receipts of cash, demand notes already committed by partners and repayments on outstanding credits. At all times, IDA enters into new commitments based on the commitment authority available. See Section III for further details on IDA's Commitment Authority.

The following are additional details of the key drivers of IDA's results from operating activities:

Members' subscriptions and contributions

The subscriptions and contributions of $1,325 million represent the unrestricted cash contributions received from members and the encashment of demand notes. This excludes $137 million of member contributions received to finance foregone charges for debt relief and development grant financing, which is shown as part of administrative activities.

Transfers and Grants from Affiliated Organizations and Trust Funds

The third and final installment of IBRD's transfer under IDA16 of $621 million was received on October 16, 2013. The third and final installment of IFC's grant under IDA16 of $251 million was received on January 23, 2014.

Development Credit and Grant Disbursements

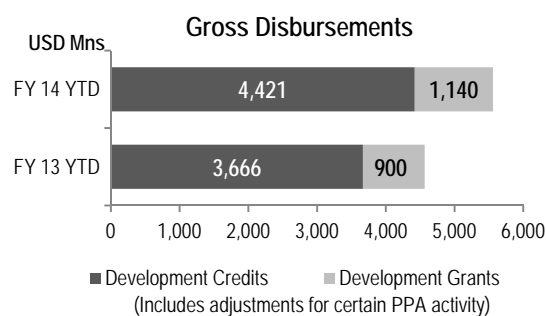

Gross disbursements of development credits and grants during FY 2014 YTD were $5,561 million, an increase of $995 million from FY 2013 YTD. In terms of regional focus, disbursements to Africa increased by $738 million. Africa and South Asia together accounted for 73% of the total gross disbursements during FY 2014 YTD.

Of the $4,421 million in development credit disbursements, 44% related to commitments made under IDA16, 37% under IDA15, 17% under IDA14 and the remaining 2% related to commitments made under earlier replenishments.

The majority of the $240 million increase in development grants disbursed in FY 2014 YTD as compared to FY 2013 YTD was attributable to the Middle East and North Africa and the South Asia regions. This increase corresponds with higher grant commitments which increased by $233 million in FY 2014 YTD when compared to FY 2013 YTD.

Administrative Activities

The increase in cash based administrative expenses, net, of $80 million was primarily due to higher expenses directly attributable to IDA consistent with the increase in IDA's lending operations.

V. Balance Sheet Analysis

The principal components of IDA's balance sheet are development credits outstanding, investment assets net of related liabilities, and subscriptions and contributions paid-in. Movements in these principal components between December 31, 2013 and June 30, 2013 are discussed further below.

Table 2: Condensed Balance Sheet

Development Credits Outstanding and Accumulated Provision for Debt Relief and for Losses on Development Credits

Development credits outstanding increased by $5,467 million during FY 2014 YTD, primarily due to positive translation adjustments of $2,873 million resulting from the 2.4% appreciation of the SDR against the U.S dollar and net positive disbursements of $2,665 million.

Investment Assets, net of related Liabilities

The net investment portfolio decreased from $27,487 million as of June 30, 2013 to $26,587 million as of December 31, 2013. The decline of $900 million reflects the net results of IDA's cash related operating activities, partially offset by the effects of movements in exchange rates. See Section IV for variance analysis of operating activities.

Adjustment for net movement in non-investment cash	432	4

Subscriptions and Contributions

The $3,361 million increase in subscriptions and contributions paid-in is primarily attributable to the receipt from members of $2,897 million of demand notes and $183 million of cash contributions along with a positive translation adjustment of $281 million.

VI. Financial Risk Management Activities

IDA is subject to four main types of financial risk: Funding risk, Liquidity risk, Credit risk and Market risk.

Funding Risk is managed using the Commitment Authority Framework and monitored, in part, by the funding position, see Section III, IDA16 Commitment Authority and Section VII, Funding and Liquidity Positions.

Liquidity Risk is managed through a combination of cash flow monitoring, timing of partner contributions and investment policies. IDA's liquidity position is a key indicator of liquidity management; see Section VII, Funding and Liquidity Positions.

Credit Risk includes two types: Country credit risk and Commercial credit risk.

Country credit risk is managed by the IDA Resource Mobilization Department which regularly reviews the credit risk of its recipient countries in terms of the country's debt sustaining capacity. These reviews provide an input into the composition of development credits versus grants for new operations.

Table 4 provides details of the top five borrowers with the largest development credits outstanding as at December 31, 2013. These borrowers represented 50% of total development credits outstanding as of that date.

Commercial Credit Risk: The monitoring and managing of this risk is a continuous process due to changing market conditions. IDA's commercial counterparty credit risk is concentrated in investments in debt instruments issued by sovereign governments, agencies, corporate entities and banks, as shown in Table 5.

IDA's total commercial credit exposure, net of collateral was $29,943 million as of December 31, 2013. Of this amount, $11,135 million (37%) related to countries in the euro zone, all of which (100%) was rated AA or above.

Market Risk: IDA faces both foreign exchange risk with respect to its future partner contributions, which it manages using currency forwards and by adjustments to the currency composition of its investment portfolio, and interest rate risk on its investment portfolio.

IDA's key financial risk management activities are primarily reflected in its investment strategy and the hedging of future partner contributions. The impact of these strategies is shown on IDA's Statement of Income, however, the economic offset is not reported. Further details on these asymmetries can be seen in IDA's June 30, 2013 MD&A. The analysis below discusses the impact of these activities on IDA's Statement of Income and the economic offset.

Translation adjustments

The payable leg of the currency forward contracts economically hedging partner pledges are denominated in non-functional currencies. Appreciation (depreciation) of these currencies against the U.S. dollar results in exchange rate losses (gains).

The translation adjustment loss on non-functional currencies of $55 million in FY 2014 YTD was due to the appreciation of the non-functional currencies against the U.S. dollar. This was offset by the translation adjustment on the economic offset to the currency forward contracts; the future inflows from partners, which was a gain of $49 million in FY 2014 YTD. In FY2013 YTD, the significant appreciation of the non-functional currencies against the U.S. dollar resulted in higher translation adjustment losses of $201 million on the payable leg of the currency forward contracts, offset by translation adjustment gains of $202 million on the flows associated with the economic offset. The differences between the reported translation adjustments and the related translation adjustments on the economic offsets primarily represent the translation adjustments on the partner contributions in non-functional currencies that are not hedged.

Mark-to-market gains/losses

The primary objective in the management of IDA's investment portfolio is to provide a ready source of liquidity when needed by IDA to meet projected net cash requirements. Accordingly, IDA's assets are invested so that their duration closely matches the duration of these projected net cash requirements. Given IDA's lengthy disbursement profile, the duration for IDA's investment portfolio is therefore relatively long. This long duration, combined with volatility in market interest rates, results in significant year-on-year variability in unrealized mark-to-market gains/losses on the portfolio. The economic offset to the unrealized mark-to-market gains/losses on the investment portfolio would be the change in the present value of the projected net cash outflows.

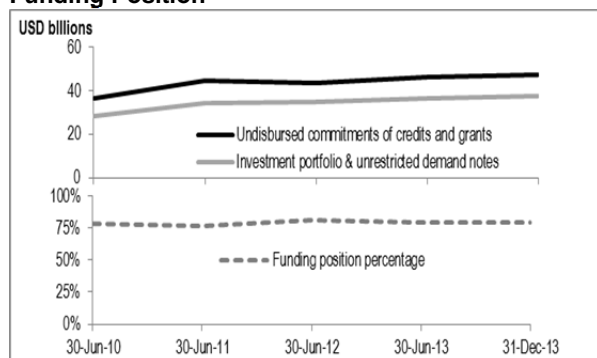

IDA's investment portfolio had a duration of approximately three years as of December 31, 2013, and has two components: core liquidity and partner asset and liability management. During FY 2014 YTD, the investment portfolio experienced unrealized mark-to-market losses of $159 million, as a result of the steepening of the yield curves for all major currencies. In contrast, in FY 2013 YTD, the flattening of the yield curves resulted in unrealized mark-to-market gains of $139 million.

The currency forward contracts incurred unrealized mark-to-market losses of $17 million during FY 2014 YTD, as compared to losses of $54 million in FY 2013 YTD, resulting from the more pronounced downward movement of yield curves of the majority of the payable currencies during FY2013 YTD.

VII. Funding and Liquidity Positions

Management monitors IDA's funding and liquidity positions to assess IDA's ability to conduct its operations. Since IDA does not borrow from the capital markets, even though it is allowed to do so under its Articles of Agreement, it is important that IDA has sufficient funding resources and liquidity to meet its contractual obligations to disburse approved development credits and grants in a timely manner.

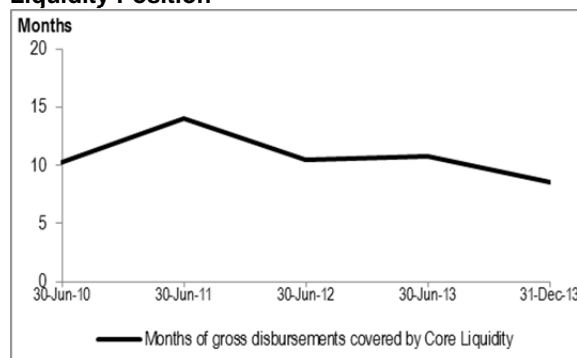

Funding Position

As of December 31, 2013, the investment portfolio and unrestricted demand notes covered 79% of all undisbursed commitments of development credits and grants, which is the same when compared with the position as at June 30, 2013.

IDA's funding position has been relatively stable for the last 4 years, ranging from 77% to 81%.

Liquidity Position

As of December 31, 2013, core liquidity accounted for $8,739 million, comprising short-term and medium-term investments. IDA's liquidity position was sufficient to cover approximately 9 months of average monthly gross disbursements, which was slightly lower than the historical range of 10 to 14 months, primarily due to high level of net cash outflows during FY 2014 YTD.

VIII. Senior Management Changes

Effective February 17, 2014 Charles McDonough will retire as Vice President and Controller of IDA and Bernard Lauwers will assume this position.

Effective June 30, 2013, Robert Kopech retired as Chief Risk Officer of IDA, and will be replaced by Lakshmi Shyam-Sundar effective February 17, 2014.

Effective July 30, 2013, Sri Mulyani Indrawati, Managing Director of IDA also assumed the position of Chief Operating Officer.

NOTES TO CONDENSED QUARTERLY FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE A—SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING AND RELATED POLICIES

Basis of Preparation

These unaudited condensed quarterly financial statements should be read in conjunction with the June 30, 2013 audited financial statements and notes included therein. The condensed comparative information that has been derived from the June 30, 2013 audited financial statements has not been audited. In the opinion of management, the condensed quarterly financial statements reflect all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of IDA's financial position and results of operations in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP).

Management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the condensed quarterly financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Due to the inherent uncertainty involved in making those estimates, actual results could differ from those estimates. Areas in which significant estimates have been made include, but are not limited to, the provision for debt relief and losses on development credits and other exposures, and valuation of certain financial instruments carried at fair value. The results of operations for the first six months of the current fiscal year are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full year.

Certain reclassifications of the prior year's information have been made to conform with the current year's presentation.

These financial statements were approved for issue on February [10], 2014, which was also the date through which IDA's management evaluated subsequent events.

Accounting and Reporting Developments

In July 2010, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the Act) became law. The Act seeks to reform the U.S. financial regulatory system by introducing new regulators and extending regulation over new markets, entities, and activities. The implementation of the Act is dependent on the development of various rules to clarify and interpret its requirements. Pending the development of these rules, no impact on IDA has been determined as of December 31, 2013. IDA continues to evaluate the potential future implications of the Act.

In December 2011, the FASB issued ASU 2011-11, Balance Sheet (Topic 210): Disclosures about Offsetting Assets and Liabilities. The ASU requires entities to disclose both gross information and net information about instruments and transactions eligible for offset in the statement of financial position, and instruments and transactions subject to a master netting agreement and agreements similar to master netting agreements. Subsequently, in January 2013, the FASB issued ASU 2013-01, Balance Sheet (Topic 210): Clarifying the Scope of Disclosures about Offsetting Assets and Liabilities, which has clarified that the scope of ASU 2011-11 applies to derivatives accounted for in accordance with Topic 815, Derivatives and Hedging, including bifurcated embedded derivatives, as well as repurchase agreements and reverse repurchase agreements, and securities borrowing and securities lending transactions that are either offset in accordance with US GAAP or subject to an enforceable master netting arrangement or similar agreement. For IDA, the ASUs were effective from the quarter ended September 30, 2013, and resulted in additional disclosures which are reflected in Note C-Investments and Note D-Derivative Instruments.

In February 2013, the FASB issued ASU 2013-02 Comprehensive Income (Topic 220): Reporting of Amounts Reclassified Out of Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income (AOCI). The ASU introduces new presentation requirements about the amounts reclassified out of AOCI. It requires an entity to present information about the reclassified amounts by component and to provide additional details about such reclassifications. The ASU does not change the current requirements for reporting net income or other comprehensive income in financial statements or which items could be reclassified from other comprehensive income to net income. For IDA, the new requirements will be effective for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2015. As IDA does not reclassify items from other comprehensive income to net income, this ASU does not have an impact on its financial statements.

Level 3 Financial Instruments

There were no level 3 instruments as of December 31, 2013 and June 30, 2013.

Valuation Methods and Assumptions

Summarized below are the techniques applied in determining the fair values of investments.

Investment securities

Where available, quoted market prices are used to determine the fair value of trading securities. Examples include futures contracts and most government and agency securities.

For instruments for which market quotations are not available, fair values are determined based on model-based valuation techniques, whether internally-generated or vendor-supplied, that include the standard discounted cash flow method using market observable inputs such as yield curves, credit spreads, and prepayment spreads. Where applicable, unobservable inputs such as constant prepayment rates, probability of default, and loss severity are used.

Unless quoted prices are available, time deposits are reported at face value which approximates fair value.

Securities purchased under resale agreements, securities sold under repurchase agreements, and securities lent under securities lending agreements

These securities are of a short term nature and are reported at face value, which approximates fair value.

Commercial Credit Risk

For the purpose of risk management, IDA is party to a variety of financial transactions, certain of which involve elements of credit risk. Credit risk exposure represents the maximum potential loss due to possible nonperformance by obligors and counterparties under the terms of the contracts. For all securities, IDA limits trading to a list of authorized dealers and counterparties. In addition, credit limits have been established for counterparties by type of instrument and maturity category.

Swap Agreements: Credit risk is mitigated through a credit approval process, volume limits, monitoring procedures and the use of mark-to-market collateral arrangements. IDA may require collateral in the form of cash or other approved liquid securities from individual counterparties to mitigate its credit exposure.

IDA has entered into master derivatives agreements which contain legally enforceable close-out netting provisions. These agreements may further reduce the gross credit risk exposure related to the swaps. Credit risk with financial assets subject to a master derivatives arrangement is further reduced under these agreements to the extent that payments and receipts with the counterparty are netted at settlement. The reduction in exposure as a result of these netting provisions can vary due to the impact of changes in market conditions on existing and new transactions. The reduction in exposure as a result of these netting provisions can vary as additional transactions are entered into under these agreements. The extent of the reduction in exposure may therefore change substantially within a short period of time following the balance sheet date. For more information on netting and offsetting provisions, see note D – Derivative Instruments.

Securities Lending: IDA may engage in securities lending and repurchases, against adequate collateral, as well as securities borrowing and reverse repurchases (resales) of government and agency obligations and ABS.

These transactions have been conducted under legally enforceable master netting arrangements, which allow IDA to reduce its gross credit exposure related to these transactions. For Balance Sheet presentation purposes, IDA presents its securities lending and repurchases, as well as resales, on a gross basis. As of December 31, 2013, amounts which could potentially be offset as a result of legally enforceable master netting arrangements were $330 million ($251 million-June 30, 2013).

Transfers of securities by IDA to counterparties are not accounted for as sales as the accounting criteria for the treatment as a sale have not been met. Counterparties are permitted to repledge these securities until the repurchase date.

The following is a summary of the carrying amount of the securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements, and the related liabilities, as of December 31, 2013 and June 30, 2013:

In millions of U.S. dollars

	December 31, 2013	June 30, 2013	Financial Statement Presentation
Securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements	$3,569	$3,236	Included under Investments—Trading on the Condensed Balance Sheet
Liabilities relating to securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements	$4,155	$3,613	Included under Securities sold under repurchase agreements, securities lent under securities lending agreements, and payable for cash collateral received on the Condensed Balance Sheet.

As of December 31, 2013, the liabilities relating to securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements included $550 million ($344 million—June 30, 2013) of repurchase agreement trades that had not settled at that date. The entire amount of $550 million ($344 million—June 30, 2013) represented replacement trades entered into in anticipation of maturing trades.

In the case of resale agreements, IDA receives collateral in the form of liquid securities and is permitted to repledge these securities. While these transactions are legally considered to be true purchases and sales, the securities received are not recorded on IDA's balance sheet as the accounting criteria for treatment as a sale have not been met. As of December 31, 2013, securities purchased under resale agreements included $825 million of securities which had not settled at that date. For the remaining purchases, IDA received securities with a fair value of $612 million ($465 million—June 30, 2013). $31 million of these securities had been transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements ($Nil—June 30, 2013).

NOTE D—DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS

IDA uses derivative instruments in its investment portfolio and for asset-liability management purposes. All derivative instruments are classified as either Level 1 or Level 2 for the purposes of fair value hierarchy classification.

The following table summarizes IDA's use of authorized derivatives in its various financial portfolios.

Portfolio	Derivative instruments used	Purpose/Risk being managed
Risk management purposes:
Investments—Trading	Interest rate swaps, currency forward contracts, currency swaps, options, swaptions and futures contracts	Manage currency and interest rate risk in the portfolio
Other assets/liabilities	Currency forward contracts and currency swaps	Manage foreign exchange risks associated with future cash flows and align to the Special Drawing Rights (SDR)
Other purposes:
Client operations	Structured swaps	Assist clients in managing risks

Under its derivative agreement with IBRD, IDA is not required to post collateral as long as it maintains liquidity holdings at pre-determined levels that are a proxy for a AAA credit rating. As of December 31, 2013, having met the liquidity holdings requirement, IDA had not posted any collateral with IBRD.

The following tables provide information on the fair value amounts and the location of the derivative instruments on the Condensed Balance Sheet, as well as the notional amounts and credit risk exposures of those derivative instruments, as of December 31, 2013 and June 30, 2013:

Offsetting assets and liabilities

IDA enters into International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. (ISDA) master netting agreements with substantially all of its derivative counterparties. These legally enforceable master netting agreements give IDA the right to liquidate securities held as collateral and to offset receivables and payables with the same counterparty, in the event of default by the counterparty.

The presentation of derivative instruments is consistent with the manner in which these instruments are settled. Interest rate swaps are settled on a net basis, while currency swaps are settled on a gross basis.

The following tables summarize information on derivative asset and liabilities (before and after netting adjustments) that are reflected on IDA's Condensed Balance Sheet as of December 31, 2013 and June 30, 2013. Total derivative assets and liabilities are adjusted on an aggregate basis to take into consideration the effects of legally enforceable master netting agreements. The net derivative asset positions have been further reduced by the cash and securities collateral received.

Inter-level transfer

During the three and six months ended December 31, 2013 and December 31, 2012, there were no inter-level transfers in the derivatives portfolio.

Valuation Methods and Assumptions

Derivative contracts include currency forward contracts, interest swaps and currency swaps, and TBA securities. These are valued using the standard discounted cash flow methods using market observable inputs such as yield curves, foreign exchange rates and basis spreads and funding spreads.

NOTE E—DEVELOPMENT CREDITS AND OTHER EXPOSURES

Development credits and other exposures are generally made directly to member countries of IDA. Other exposures include irrevocable commitments, guarantees and repaying project preparation facilities.

Development credits are carried and reported at amortized cost. Of the total development credits outstanding as of December 31, 2013, 89% were to the South Asia, Africa, and East Asia and Pacific regions combined.

Based on IDA's internal credit quality indicators, the majority of the development credits outstanding are in the Medium-risk and High-risk classes.

As of December 31, 2013, development credits outstanding totaling $2,740 million (representing about 2% of the portfolio) from five borrowers were in nonaccrual status.

Credit Quality of Sovereign Development Credits

Based on an evaluation of IDA's development credits, management has determined that IDA has one portfolio segment — Sovereign Exposures. Development credits constitute the majority of sovereign exposures.

IDA's country risk ratings are an assessment of its borrowers' ability and willingness to repay IDA on time and in full. These ratings are internal credit quality indicators. Individual country risk ratings are derived on the basis of both quantitative and qualitative factors. For the purpose of analyzing the risk characteristics of IDA's exposures, exposures are grouped into three classes in accordance with assigned borrower risk ratings which relate to the likelihood of loss: Low, Medium and High risk classes, as well as exposures in nonaccrual status. IDA considers all exposures in nonaccrual status to be impaired.

IDA's borrowers' country risk ratings are key determinants in the provisions for development credit losses.

IDA considers a development credit to be past due when a borrower fails to make payment on any principal, service, interest or other charges due to IDA, on the dates provided in the contractual development credit agreements.

The following tables provide an aging analysis of development credits outstanding as of December 31, 2013 and June 30, 2013:

Accumulated Provision for Losses on Development Credits, Debt Relief (HIPC Debt Initiative and MDRI) and Other Exposures

Provision for Losses on Development Credits and Other Exposures

Management determines the appropriate level of accumulated provision for losses, which reflects the probable losses inherent in IDA's exposures. Probable losses comprise estimates of losses arising from default and nonpayment of principal amounts due, as well as present value losses. Management reassesses the adequacy of the accumulated provision on a periodic basis and adjustments are recorded as a charge against or addition to income.

Provision for Debt Relief

HIPC Debt Initiative and MDRI provisions are based on quantitative and qualitative analyses of various factors, including estimates of Decision Point and Completion Point dates. These factors are reviewed periodically as part of the reassessment of the adequacy of the accumulated provision for debt relief. Provisions are released as qualifying debt service becomes due and is forgiven under the HIPC Debt Initiative, and are reduced by the amount of the eligible development credits written off when the country reaches Completion Point, and becomes eligible for MDRI debt relief.

Changes to the accumulated provision for losses on development credits and other exposures, as well as the debt relief under HIPC Debt Initiative and MDRI for the six months ended December 31, 2013 and the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013 are summarized below:

During the three and six months ended December 31, 2013, service charge income recognized on development credits in nonaccrual status was less than $1 million in each period ($Nil—three and six months ended December 31, 2012).

Guarantees

Guarantees of $442 million were outstanding at December 31, 2013 ($359 million—June 30, 2013). This amount represents the maximum potential undiscounted future payments that IDA could be required to make under these guarantees, and is not included on the Condensed Balance Sheet. The guarantees issued by IDA have original maturities ranging between 9 and 23 years, and expire in decreasing amounts through 2035.

As of December 31, 2013, liabilities related to IDA's obligations under guarantees of $39 million ($30 million—June 30, 2013), have been included in Other liabilities on the Condensed Balance Sheet. These include the accumulated provision for guarantee losses of $9 million ($9 million—June 30, 2013).

During the six months ended December 31, 2013 and December 31, 2012, no guarantees provided by IDA were called.

Segment Reporting

Based on an evaluation of its operations, management has determined that IDA has only one reportable segment.

Charge income comprises service charges and interest charges on outstanding development credit balances and guarantee fee income. For the six months ended December 31, 2013, charge income from one country totaling $101 million was in excess of ten percent of total charge income.

The following table presents IDA's development credits outstanding and associated charge income as of and for the six months ended December 31, 2013 and December 31, 2012, by geographic region:

Buy-down of Development Credits

During the six months ended December 31, 2013, two development credits, with outstanding carrying value of $134 million, were purchased under the buy-down mechanism by the Global Program to Eradicate Poliomyelitis Trust Fund, for present value equivalent of $67 million, resulting in a $67 million write-off. For one development credit a provision of $30 million was recorded during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013, and for the other development credit a provision of $37 million was recorded during the six months ended December 31, 2013. These provisions were recorded when all performance goals as well as conditions necessary to effect the buy-downs were completed.

During the six months ended December 31, 2012, there were no development credits purchased under the buy-down mechanism.

Fair Value Disclosures

The table below presents the fair value of IDA's development credits along with their respective carrying amounts as of December 31, 2013 and June 30, 2013:

As of December 31, 2013, IDA's development credits are classified as Level 3 within the fair value hierarchy.

Valuation Methods and Assumptions

The fair values of development credits are calculated using market-based methodologies which incorporate the respective borrowers' Credit Default Swap (CDS) spreads and, where applicable, proxy CDS spreads. Basis adjustments are applied to market recovery levels to reflect IDA's recovery experience.

NOTE F—AFFILIATED ORGANIZATIONS

IDA transacts with affiliated organizations as a recipient of transfers and grants, administrative and derivative intermediation services as well as through cost sharing of IBRD's sponsored pension and other postretirement plans.

Transfers and Grants

Cumulative transfers and grants made to IDA as of December 31, 2013 were $ 16,107 million ($15,482 million—June 30, 2013). Details by transferor are as follows:

The receivables from (payables to) these affiliated organizations are reported in the Condensed Balance Sheet as follows:

Receivable for pension and other postretirement benefits	Receivable from affiliated organization
Receivables (payables) for derivative transactions	Derivative assets/liabilities – Asset-liability management
Payable for administrative services ^a	Payable to affiliated organization

a. Includes amounts receivable from IBRD for IDA's share of investments associated with PCRFB. This receivable is included in Receivable from affiliated organization on the Condensed Balance Sheet.

Administrative Services: The payable to IBRD represents IDA's share of joint administrative expenses, net of other income jointly earned. The allocation of expenses is based upon an agreed cost sharing formula, and amounts are settled quarterly. At December 31, 2013, the amount payable for administrative service was net of IDA's share of investments associated with PCRFB.

For the three and six months ended December 31, 2013, IDA's share of joint administrative expenses totaled $395 million and $771 million, respectively (three and six months ended December 31, 2012—$390 million and $733 million, respectively).

Other income: Includes IDA's share of other income jointly earned with IBRD during the three and six months ended December 31, 2013 totaling $64 million and $112 million, respectively (three and six months ended December 31, 2012—$62 million and $97 million, respectively). Other income is allocated on the basis consistent with that applied to joint administrative expenses.

For the three and six months ended December 31, 2013 and December 31, 2012, the amount of fee revenue associated with services provided to other affiliated organizations is included in Other income on the Condensed Statement of Income, as follows:

In millions of U.S. dollars

	Three Months Ended December 31,		Six Months Ended December 31,
	2013	2012	2013	2012
Fees charged to IFC	$18	$13	$29	$20
Fees charged to MIGA	2	2	3	3

Pension and Other Postretirement Benefits: The receivable from IBRD represents IDA's net share of prepaid costs for pension and other postretirement benefit plans and Post-Employment Benefits Plan (PEBP) assets. These will be realized over the life of the plan participants.

Derivative transactions: These relate to currency forward contracts entered into by IDA with IBRD acting as the intermediary with the market, and primarily convert donors' expected contributions in national currencies under the Sixteenth and prior replenishments of IDA's resources into the four currencies of the SDR basket.

NOTE G—DEVELOPMENT GRANTS

A summary of changes to the amounts payable for development grants for the six months ended December 31, 2013, and for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2013, is presented below:

In millions of U.S. dollars

	December 31, 2013	June 30, 2013

Translation adjustment	152	(51)
Balance, end of the period/fiscal year	$6,324	$ 6,436

For the fiscal years ending June 30, 2014 and June 30, 2013, the commitment charge rate on the undisbursed balances of IDA grants was set at nil percent.

NOTE H—PENSION AND OTHER POSTRETIREMENT BENEFITS

IBRD, along with IFC and the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency sponsor a defined benefit Staff Retirement Plan, a Retired Staff Benefits Plan and a PEBP that cover substantially all of their staff members.

While IDA is not a participating entity to these benefit plans, IDA shares the benefit costs and reimburses IBRD for its proportionate share of any contributions made to these plans by IBRD, as part of IBRD's allocation of staff and associated administrative expenses to IDA based on an agreed cost sharing ratio.

During the three and six months ended December 31, 2013, IDA's share of IBRD's benefit costs relating to all the three plans totaled $76 million and $149 million, respectively (three and six months ended December 31, 2012—$84 million and $162 million, respectively).

The cost of any potential future liability arising from these plans would be shared by IBRD and IDA using the applicable share ratio.

NOTE I—ACCUMULATED OTHER COMPREHENSIVE INCOME

Comprehensive income consists of net income and other gains and losses affecting equity that, under U.S. GAAP, are excluded from net income. For IDA, comprehensive income is comprised of net income (loss) and currency translation adjustments on functional currencies. These items are presented in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

The following table presents the changes in Accumulated other comprehensive income balances for the six months ended December 31, 2013 and December 31, 2012.
