I. Introduction

This document should be read in conjunction with the International Development Association's (IDA) financial statements and management's discussion and analysis issued for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2012. IDA undertakes no obligation to update any forward looking statements.

II. Sources and Applications of Funds

IDA's lending, grant financing and guarantee activities are funded by donor and internal resources, and transfers and grants from affiliated organizations. These key activities are presented and discussed below.

Sources of Funds

Donor Resources (Subscriptions and Contributions): IDA finances its new commitments for development credits and development grants primarily through contributions from donor countries. The donor resources are in the form of subscriptions and contributions with assigned voting rights.

Internal Resources: These comprise contractual principal repayments (including any accelerated repayments and voluntary prepayments), income from the investment portfolio, and interest income from Blend and Hard-term credits.

Transfers and Grants from affiliated organizations and trust funds: These are transfers from the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development's (IBRD) net income and grants from the International Finance Corporation's (IFC) retained earnings.

Applications of Funds

Disbursement of development credits and grants: Through its development operations, IDA's development credits, development grants and guarantees benefit the poorest and least creditworthy countries.

III. Basis of Reporting

IDA prepares its financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP), referred to in this document as the "reported basis". Under the reported basis, IDA's Statement of Income does not reflect the true economic results of IDA due to a number of asymmetries. These include the following:

- The recording of development grants as charges to net income, while the associated funding resources are recorded as equity through members' subscriptions and contributions.
- The reporting of the translation adjustments on the non-special drawing rights currencies (non functional currencies) associated with IDA's currency forward contracts in the Statement of Income; for which the economic offset, represented by the translation adjustment on the future donor inflows being hedged, is not reported in the financial statements.
- The reporting in the Statement of Income of the unrealized mark-to-market gains/losses on the donor asset and liability tranche of the investment portfolio, for which the economic offset, represented by the change in the present value of the associated future net cash outflows reflected in the immunization strategy, is not reported in IDA's financial statements. The immunization strategy aims to align the duration of this tranche with the duration of the contracted future net cash outflows.
- Donor compensation received for forgone charges due to debt relief and grant financing which funds part of the net administrative expenses, is recorded as equity through members' contributions.

IV. Statement of Activities Analysis

To partly address the asymmetries embedded in IDA's reported results, management believes that a Statement of Activities (Table 1), better reflects the operating results of IDA. The Statement of Activities categorizes activities under two broad headings, namely: operating activities and risk management activities. It is designed to show the financial impact of IDA's operating and risk management activities.

Overall Results from Operating and Risk Management Activities

The overall result from IDA's Operating and Risk Management Activities was negative $566 million for the three months ended September 30, 2012 (FY 2013 YTD). This primarily reflects the $1,392 million of net cash outflows for development operations, partially offset by $658 million of cash receipts relating to donor contributions and $281 million investment income, net.

Despite the negative results from operating and risk management activities, IDA's liquidity position as of September 30, 2012 was sufficient to cover approximately 10 months of average monthly gross disbursements, and remains within the historical range of 10 to 14 months.

IDA experienced a decline in its funding position from 81% at June 30, 2012 to 74% at September 30, 2012. This was primarily due to the $4,791 million in new commitments during the period, and reflects a timing issue between the receipt of encashments from demand obligations relating to subscriptions and contributions, and new commitment activity. At all times, IDA enters into new commitments based on the commitment authority available. See Section VIII for further details on IDA's Commitment Authority.

Results from Operating Activities

The key drivers of IDA's Results from Operating Activities are: (i) Contributions and Other Support, (ii) Development Operations, (iii) Investment Income, and (iv) Administrative Expenses. The impact of these activities on IDA's Results from Operating Activities for the three months ended September 30, 2012 (FY 2013 YTD) as compared to the three months ended September 30, 2011 (FY 2012 YTD) are discussed below.

Contributions and Other Support

Transfers and Grants from Affiliated Organizations and Trust Funds

The decline of $521 million is due to the timing of the approval by the Board of Governors of the IDA16 transfers from the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD). In FY 2012, the transfer of the first installment, $520 million, occurred during the first quarter. In contrast in FY 2013, the transfer of the second installment of $608 million occurred on October 16, 2012.

Development Operations

Development Credit Disbursements

Gross disbursements of development credits during FY 2013 YTD were $1,676 million, an increase of $141 million from FY 2012 YTD. In terms of regional focus, disbursements to South Asia and Europe and Central Asia increased by $277 million, while disbursements to Africa decreased by $211 million. Africa and the South Asian Region accounted for 72 % of the total gross disbursements during FY 2013 YTD.

Of the $1,676 million in development credit disbursements, 24% related to commitments made under IDA16, 38% under IDA15, 33% under IDA14 and the remaining 5% relate to commitments made under earlier replenishments.

Development Grant Disbursements

The majority of the $98 million decrease in development grants disbursed between FY 2013 YTD and FY 2012 YTD is attributable to the Africa region.

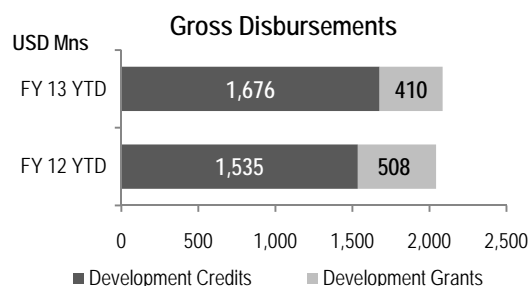

Discount on Prepaid Development Credits

During FY 2012 YTD, the total amount prepaid by two IDA graduate members of $940 million, reflected the present value of the development credits as of the date of the prepayment, resulting in an aggregate discount of $113 million. There were no prepayments during FY 2013 YTD.

Investments

Investment Income

IDA's investment portfolio has two components: the core liquidity and the donor asset and liability management components, and had a duration of approximately 4 years as of September 30, 2012. The decrease of $138 million in investment income, of which $71 million relates to the donor asset and liability management component, was primarily driven by the lower unrealized mark-to-market gains experienced as a result of the moderate decline in the yield curves for all major currencies during FY 2013 YTD as compared to the more pronounced yield curve declines in FY 2012 YTD.

Administrative and Other Activities

Administrative Expenses, net

The increase of $44 million was primarily due to higher pension costs during FY 2013 YTD compared to the same period in FY 2012

Risk Management Activities

The key drivers of IDA's Results from Risk Management Activities are the results of the hedging of future donor contributions.

IDA uses currency forward contracts to economically hedge those donor contributions which are denominated in non-functional currencies, to special drawing rights (SDR) basket currencies. There are however certain non-functional currencies, which, due to the relatively small size of the contribution or the unpredictability of the expected payment date, are not being hedged.

The liability position (payable leg) of the currency forward contracts economically hedging donor pledges are composed of non-functional currencies. Appreciation (depreciation) of these currencies against the U.S. dollar results in translation adjustment losses (gains). The translation adjustment losses on non-functional currencies of $190 million in FY 2013 YTD were primarily due to the significant appreciation of the majority of the non-functional currencies against the U.S. dollar. In contrast, the significant depreciation of the non-functional currencies against the U.S. dollar during the same period in FY 2012 resulted in $488 million of translation adjustment gains. The translation adjustment on the economic offset to the currency forward contracts; the future inflows from donors, was a gain of $192 million during FY 2013 YTD and a loss of $503 million during FY 2012 YTD. The differences between the reported translation adjustments and the related economic offsets primarily represent the donor contributions in certain non functional currencies that are not being hedged due to the reasons outlined above.

V. Balance Sheet Analysis

The principal components of IDA's balance sheet are development credits outstanding, investment assets net of liabilities, and subscriptions and contributions paid-in. Movements in these principal components between September 30, 2012 and June 30, 2012 are discussed further below.

Table 2: Condensed Balance Sheet

Development Credits Outstanding and Accumulated Provision for Debt Relief and Losses on Development Credits

Development credits outstanding increased by $1,280 million during FY 2013. This was primarily due to positive translation adjustments of $1,887 million resulting from the 1.62% appreciation of the SDR against the US dollar and net positive disbursements of $954 million. This was partially offset by a $1,559 million write off of Côte d'Ivoire's development credits under the Multilateral Debt Relief Initiative (MDRI).

The $1,477 million decrease in the accumulated provision for debt relief and losses on development credits, was primarily due to the write off of Côte d'Ivoire's development credits under the Multilateral Debt Relief Initiative (MDRI).

Investment Assets, net of related Liabilities

The net investment portfolio decreased slightly from $26,333 million as of June 30, 2012 to $26,186 million as of September 30, 2012, reflecting the net results of IDA's cash related activities as follows:

Table 3: Changes in the net asset value of the investment portfolio

In millions of U.S. dollars

	September 30, 2012	June 30, 2012
Beginning of fiscal year	$26,333	$24,872

Effects of exchange rates	397	(1,128)
Others	(26)	(6)
End of period/fiscal year	$26,186	$26,333

Subscriptions and Contributions

The $534 million increase in subscriptions and contributions paid-in, is attributable to the receipt from members of $316 million of demand notes and positive translation adjustments of $218 million.

VI. Funding and Liquidity Position

Management monitors IDA's funding and liquidity positions to assess IDA's ability to conduct its operations. Since IDA does not borrow from the capital markets, even though it is allowed to do so under its Articles of Agreement, it is important that it has sufficient funding resources and liquidity to meet its contractual obligations to disburse approved development credits and grants in a timely manner.

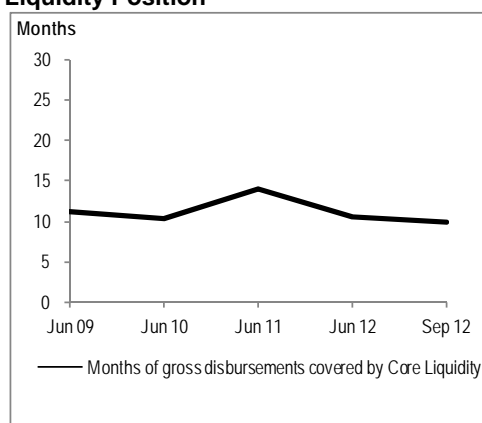

Funding Position

As of September 30, 2012, the investment portfolio and unrestricted demand notes covered 74 % of all undisbursed commitments of development credits and grants, compared with 81% as at June 30, 2012. The decline is primarily due to the $4,791 million of new commitments during the period, as previously discussed.

IDA's funding position has been relatively stable for the last 4 years, ranging from 74% to 81%.

Liquidity Position

As of September 30, 2012, core liquidity accounted for $9,045 million, comprising short-term and medium-term investments, and was sufficient to cover nearly 10 months of average monthly gross disbursements.

IDA's liquidity position has been relatively stable for the last 4 years, ranging from 10 to 14 months of average monthly gross disbursements since FY 2009.

VII. Commercial Counterparty Credit Risk

The effective management of commercial counterparty credit risk is vital to the success of IDA's investment and asset-liability management activities. The monitoring and managing of this risk is a continuous process due to changing market conditions. IDA's commercial counterparty credit risk is concentrated in investments in debt instruments issued by sovereign governments, agencies, corporate entities and banks, as shown in Table 4.

IDA's total commercial credit exposure net of collateral was $ 29,664 million as of September 30, 2012. Of this amount, $11,025 million (37 %) relates to countries in the Euro Zone; of which $10,292 million (93%) is rated AA or above, and none are rated below A.

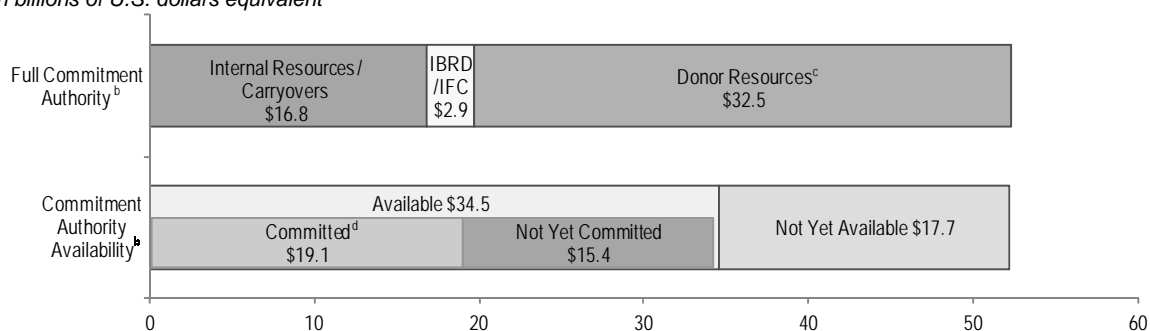

VIII. IDA16 Commitment Authority

Approximately 36% of the total IDA16 lending envelope of SDR 33.9 billion (U.S. dollar equivalent 52.3 billion) has been committed to date. Of the $4.8 billion committed during FY 2013 YTD, approximately $4.4 billion relates to development credits and $0.4 billion relates to development grants.

Chart 1 provides a breakdown of the principal sources making up the total lending envelope under the revised IDA16 Commitment Authority Framework and the extent to which these sources have been used for commitment of development credits, grants and guarantees through September 30, 2012.

Chart 1 : IDA16 Commitment Authority Status

In billions of U.S. dollars equivalent^a

a. Commitment Authority is measured and monitored in SDR. The chart represents the U.S. dollar equivalent amounts based on USD/SDR exchange rate at September 30, 2012 for presentational purposes only. Actual commitments are recorded based on historical USD rates.

b. Amounts may not add due to rounding

c. Includes U.S. dollar equivalent 5.4 billion of donor commitments for compensation of debt relief provided under MDRI.

d. IDA 16 replenishment guarantee commitments to date totaled $448 million, of which only 25% ($112 million) is used for the purposes of the Commitment Authority.

IX. Senior Management Changes

Effective July 1, 2012, Jim Yong Kim became the President of IDA.

Following the decision by Vincenzo La Via to retire as Chief Financial Officer (CFO) of IDA, Charles McDonough was appointed as acting CFO effective March 28, 2012. A global search for a new CFO is in progress.

The Notes to Condensed Quarterly Financial Statements are an integral part of these Statements.

NOTE A—SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING AND RELATED POLICIESBasis of Preparation

These unaudited condensed quarterly financial statements should be read in conjunction with the June 30, 2012 audited financial statements and notes included therein. The condensed comparative information that has been derived from the June 30, 2012 audited financial statements has not been audited. In the opinion of management, the condensed quarterly financial statements reflect all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of IDA's financial position and results of operations in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP).

Management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the condensed quarterly financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Due to the inherent uncertainty involved in making those estimates, actual results could differ from those estimates. Areas in which significant estimates have been made include, but are not limited to, the provision for debt relief and losses on development credits and other exposures, and valuation of certain financial instruments carried at fair value. The results of operations for the first three months of the current fiscal year are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full year.

Certain reclassifications of the prior year's information have been made to conform with the current year's presentation.

These financial statements were approved for issue on November 13, 2012, which was also the date through which IDA's management evaluated subsequent events.

Accounting and Reporting Developments

In July 2010, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the Act) became law. The Act seeks to reform the U.S. financial regulatory system by introducing new regulators and extending regulation over new markets, entities, and activities. The implementation of the Act is dependent on the development of various rules to clarify and interpret its requirements. Pending the development of these rules, no impact on IDA has been determined as of September 30, 2012. IDA continues to evaluate the potential future implications of the Act.

In April 2011, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standard Update (ASU) No. 2011-02, Receivables: A Creditor's Determination of Whether a Restructuring Is a Troubled Debt Restructuring. The ASU clarifies criteria to be considered in evaluating whether a restructuring of a receivable constitutes a troubled debt restructuring and was effective for IDA from the quarter ended September 30, 2012. As it is IDA's practice not to restructure its development credits, this ASU did not have an impact on its financial statements.

In June 2011, the FASB issued ASU 2011-05, Comprehensive Income (Topic 220): Presentation of Comprehensive Income. The ASU requires comprehensive income to be reported in either a single statement or in two consecutive statements. The ASU does not change which items are reported in other comprehensive income or existing requirements to reclassify items out of accumulated other comprehensive income to net income. Subsequently, in December 2011, the FASB issued ASU 2011-12, Deferral of the Effective Date for Amendments to the Presentation of Reclassifications of Items Out of Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income in Accounting Standards Update No. 2011-05, which deferred certain reclassification provisions in ASU 2011-05. In IDA, the ASUs are effective for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2012, and interim and annual periods thereafter, will not have an effect on IDA's financial statement as these are already in compliance with one of the options allowed under ASU 2011-05.

In August 2012, the FASB issued a proposed ASU, Comprehensive Income (Topic 220): Presentation of Items Reclassified Out of Accumulated Other Comprehensive Income, which would require entities to present separately in the notes, tabular information about items that are reclassified out of each component of accumulated other comprehensive income. IDA is currently evaluating the impact of this proposed ASU on its financial statements.

During the three months ended September 30, 2012, IDA encashed demand obligations totaling $658 million.

NOTE C—INVESTMENTS

The investment securities held by IDA are designated as trading and are carried and reported at fair value, or at face value which approximates fair value.

As of September 30, 2012, the majority of the Investments—Trading is comprised of government and agency obligations (83%), with almost all the instruments being classified as either Level 1 or Level 2 within the fair value hierarchy.

IDA uses derivative instruments to manage currency and interest rate risk in the investment portfolio. For details regarding these instruments, see Note D—Derivative Instruments.

As of September 30, 2012, there were short sales totaling $33 million ($32 million—June 30, 2012) included in Other liabilities on the Condensed Balance Sheet.

For the three months ended September 30, 2012, IDA's income included $116 million of net unrealized gains (three months ended September 30, 2011—$233 million of net unrealized gains).

The fair value of Level 3 instruments (ABS) in the investment portfolio is estimated using valuation models that incorporate observable market inputs and unobservable inputs. The significant unobservable inputs include constant prepayment rates, probability of default, and loss severity rate. The constant prepayment rate is an annualized expected rate of principal prepayment for a pool of ABS. The probability of default is an estimate of the expected likelihood of not collecting contractual amounts owed. Loss severity is the present value of lifetime losses (both interest and principal) as a percentage of the principal balance.

Significant increases (decreases) in the assumptions used for these inputs in isolation, would result in a significantly lower (higher) fair value measurement. Generally, a change in the assumption used for the probability of default is accompanied by a directionally similar change in the assumption used for the loss severity and a directionally opposite change in the assumption used for constant prepayment rates.

The following table provides a summary of the valuation technique applied in determining fair values of these Level 3 instruments as of September 30, 2012 and June 30, 2012 and quantitative information regarding the significant unobservable inputs used:

In millions of U.S. dollars

Portfolio	Fair value at		Valuation Technique	Unobservable input	Range (weighted average)
	September 30, 2012	June 30, 2012			September 30, 2012	June 30, 2012
Investments (ABS)	$5	$4	Discounted Cash Flow	Constant prepayment rate	3.8% to 18.0% (6.45%)	0.5% to 5.0% (4.48%)
				Probability of default	0.0% to 4.0% (1.08%)	0.0% to 8.0% (1.14%)
				Loss severity	0.0% to 100% (36.20%)	0.0% to 100% (45.9%)

Inter-level transfers

The transfers from Level 2 to Level 3 reflect the unavailability of quoted prices for similar instruments resulting from a decreased volume of trading for these instruments. Conversely, transfers from Level 3 to Level 2 reflect the availability of quoted prices for similar instruments resulting from increased volume of trading for these instruments.

The table below provides the details of all gross inter-level transfers during the three months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011:

In millions of U.S. dollars

Valuation Methods and Assumptions

Summarized below are the techniques applied in determining the fair values of investments.

Investment securities

Where available, quoted market prices are used to determine the fair value of trading securities. Examples include futures contracts and most government and agency securities.

For instruments for which market quotations are not available, fair values are determined based on model-based valuation techniques, whether internally-generated or vendor-supplied, that include the standard discounted cash flow method using market observable inputs such as yield curves, credit spreads, and prepayment spreads. Where applicable, unobservable inputs such as constant prepayment rates, probability of default, and loss severity are used.

Unless quoted prices are available, time deposits are reported at face value which approximates fair value.

Securities purchased under resale agreements, securities sold under repurchase agreements, and securities lent under securities lending agreements

These securities are reported at face value, which approximates fair value.

Commercial Credit Risk

For the purpose of risk management, IDA is party to a variety of financial transactions, certain of which involve elements of credit risk. Credit risk exposure represents the maximum potential loss due to possible nonperformance by obligors and counterparties under the terms of the contracts. For all securities, IDA limits trading to a list of authorized dealers and counterparties. In addition, credit limits have been established for counterparties by type of instrument and maturity category.

Swap Agreements: Credit risk is mitigated through a credit approval process, volume limits, monitoring procedures and the use of mark-to-market collateral arrangements. IDA may require collateral in the form of cash or other approved liquid securities from individual counterparties to mitigate its credit exposure.

IDA has entered into master derivatives agreements which contain legally enforceable close-out netting provisions. These agreements may further reduce the gross credit risk exposure related to the swaps. The reduction in exposure as a result of these netting provisions can vary as additional transactions are entered into under these agreements. The extent of the reduction in exposure may therefore change substantially within a short period of time following the balance sheet date.

Securities Lending: IDA may engage in securities lending and repurchases, against adequate collateral, as well as securities borrowing and reverse repurchases (resales) of government and agency obligations and ABS. Transfers of securities by IDA to counterparties are not accounted for as sales as the accounting criteria for the treatment as a sale have not been met. Counterparties are permitted to repledge these securities until the repurchase date.

The following is a summary of the carrying amount of the securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements, and the related liabilities, as of September 30, 2012 and June 30, 2012:

In millions of U.S. dollars

	September 30, 2012	June 30, 2012	Financial Statement Presentation
Securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements	$3,099	$2,691	Included under Investments—Trading on the Condensed Balance Sheet
Liabilities relating to securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements	$4,049	$3,772	Included under Securities sold under repurchase agreements, securities lent under securities lending agreements, and payable for cash collateral received on the Condensed Balance Sheet.

As of September 30, 2012, the liabilities relating to securities transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements included $928 million ($1,046 million—June 30, 2012) of repurchase agreement trades that had not settled at that date. Of this amount, $552 million ($685 million—June 30, 2012) represented replacement trades entered into in anticipation of maturing trades.

IDA receives collateral in connection with resale agreements. This collateral serves to mitigate IDA's exposure to credit risk. The collateral received is in the form of liquid securities and IDA is permitted to repledge these securities. While these transactions are legally considered to be true purchases and sales, the securities received are not recorded on the Balance Sheet as the accounting criteria for treatment as a sale have not been met. As of September 30, 2012, IDA had received securities with a fair value of $386 million ($442 million—June 30, 2012) in connection with resale agreements. Of this amount, securities totaling $76 million ($52 million—June 30, 2012) had been transferred under repurchase or securities lending agreements.

NOTE D—DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS

IDA uses derivative instruments in its investment portfolio and for asset-liability management purposes. All derivative instruments are classified as Level 2 for the purposes of fair value hierarchy classification.

The following table summarizes IDA's use of authorized derivatives in its various financial portfolios.

Portfolio	Derivative instruments used	Purpose/Risk being managed
Risk management purposes:
Investments—Trading	Interest rate swaps, currency forward contracts, currency swaps, options, swaptions and futures contracts	Manage currency and interest rate risk in the portfolio
Other assets/liabilities	Currency forward contracts and currency swaps	Manage foreign exchange risks of future cash flows in non-Special Drawing Rights (SDR) component currencies
Other purposes:
Client operations	Structured swaps	Assist clients in managing commodity output risks

Under its derivative agreement with IBRD, IDA is not required to post collateral as long as it maintains liquidity holdings at pre-determined levels that are a proxy for a AAA credit rating. As of September 30, 2012, having met the liquidity holdings requirement, IDA had not posted any collateral with IBRD.

The following tables provide information on the fair value amounts and the location of the derivative instruments on the Condensed Balance Sheet, as well as the notional amounts and credit risk exposures of those derivative instruments, as of September 30, 2012 and June 30, 2012:

During the three months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, there were no inter-level transfers in the derivatives portfolio.

Valuation Methods and Assumptions

Derivative contracts include currency forward contracts, plain vanilla swaps and structured swaps, and are valued using the standard discounted cash flow methods using market observable inputs such as yield curves, foreign exchange rates and basis spreads.

NOTE E—DEVELOPMENT CREDITS AND OTHER EXPOSURES

Development credits and other exposures (exposures) are generally made directly to member countries of IDA. Other exposures include irrevocable commitments, guarantees and repaying project preparation facilities.

Development credits are carried and reported at amortized cost. Of the total development credits outstanding as of September 30, 2012, 89% were to the South Asia, Africa, and East Asia and Pacific regions combined.

Based on IDA's internal credit quality indicators, the majority of the development credits outstanding are in the Medium risk and High risk classes.

As of September 30, 2012, six borrowers with development credits outstanding totaling $3,529 million (representing 2.8% of the total) were in nonaccrual status.

Credit Quality of Sovereign Development Credits

Based on an evaluation of IDA's development credits, management has determined that IDA has one portfolio segment — Sovereign Exposures.

The following tables provide an aging analysis of development credits outstanding as of September 30, 2012 and June 30, 2012:

In millions of U.S. dollars

Days past due	September 30, 2012						Current	Total

Development credits constitute the majority of sovereign exposures.

IDA's country risk ratings are an assessment of its borrowers' ability and willingness to repay IDA on time and in full. These ratings are internal credit quality indicators. Individual country risk ratings are derived on the basis of both quantitative and qualitative factors. For the purpose of analyzing the risk characteristics of IDA's exposures, exposures are grouped into three classes in accordance with assigned borrower risk ratings which relate to the likelihood of loss: Low, Medium and High risk classes, as well as exposures in nonaccrual status. IDA considers all exposures in nonaccrual status to be impaired.

IDA's borrowers' country risk ratings are key determinants in the provisions for development credit losses.

IDA considers a development credit to be past due when a borrower fails to make payment on any principal, service, interest or other charges due to IDA, on the dates provided in the contractual development credit agreements.

Accumulated Provision for Losses on Development Credits, Debt Relief (HIPC Debt Initiative and MDRI) and Other Exposures

Provision for Losses on Development Credits and Other Exposures

Management determines the appropriate level of accumulated provision for losses, which reflects the probable losses inherent in IDA's exposures. Probable losses comprise estimates of losses arising from default and nonpayment of principal amounts due, as well as present value losses. Management reassesses the adequacy of the accumulated provision on a periodic basis and adjustments are recorded as a charge against or addition to income.

Changes to the accumulated provision for losses on development credits and other exposures, as well as the debt relief under HIPC Debt Initiative and MDRI for the three months ended September 30, 2012 and the fiscal year ended June 30, 2012 are summarized below:

On July 1, 2012, development credits totaling $1,559 million were written off under the MDRI as a result of Côte d'Ivoire reaching the Completion Point under the HIPC Debt Initiative on June 26, 2012.

On September 26, 2012, Guinea reached the Completion Point under the HIPC Debt Initiative, allowing for the cancellation of eligible development credits totaling $996 million on October 1, 2012. The accumulated provision for debt relief under the Provision for Debt Relief

HIPC Debt Initiative and MDRI provisions are based on quantitative and qualitative analyses of various factors, including estimates of Decision Point and Completion Point dates. These factors are reviewed periodically as part of the reassessment of the adequacy of the accumulated provision for debt relief. Provisions are released as qualifying debt service becomes due, and is forgiven under the HIPC Debt Initiative and are reduced by the amount of the eligible development credits written off when the country reaches Completion Point, and becomes eligible for MDRI debt relief.

HIPC/MDRI of $3,864 million as of September 30, 2012, includes a provision for this amount.

Overdue Amounts

It is the policy of IDA to place in nonaccrual status all development credits and other exposures made to, or guaranteed by, a member of IDA if principal, service charges, or other charges with respect to any such exposures are overdue by more than six months, unless IDA's management determines that the overdue amount will be collected in the immediate future. IDA considers the exposures in nonaccrual status to be impaired. In addition, if exposures made by IBRD to a member government are placed in nonaccrual status, all development credits and other exposures made to, or guaranteed by, that member government will also be placed in nonaccrual status by IDA. On the date a member's development credits and other exposures are placed into nonaccrual status, unpaid service charges and other charges accrued on development credits outstanding to the member are deducted from the income from development credits in the current period. Charge income on nonaccrual exposures is included in income only to the extent that payments have actually been received by IDA. If collectability risk is considered to be particularly high at the time of arrears clearance, a borrowing member's exposures may not automatically emerge from nonaccrual status. In such instances, a decision on the restoration of accrual status is made on a case-by-case basis, and in certain cases that decision may be deferred until a suitable period of payment or policy performance has passed.

As of September 30, 2012, there were no principal or charges under development credits in accrual status which were overdue by more than three months.

The following tables provide a summary of selected financial information related to development credits in nonaccrual status as of September 30, 2012 and June 30, 2012 and for the three months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011:

During the three months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, no development credits were placed into nonaccrual status or restored to accrual status.

During the three months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, no service charge income was recognized on development credits in nonaccrual status.

Guarantees

Guarantees of $374 million were outstanding at September 30, 2012 ($299 million—June 30, 2012). This amount represents the maximum potential undiscounted future payments that IDA could be required to make under these guarantees, and is not included on the Condensed Balance Sheet. The guarantees issued by IDA have original maturities ranging between 10 and 23 years, and expire in decreasing amounts through 2035.

As of September 30, 2012, liabilities related to IDA's obligations under guarantees of $32 million ($26 million—June 30, 2012), have been included in Other liabilities on the Condensed Balance Sheet. These include the accumulated provision for guarantee losses of $9 million ($7 million—June 30, 2012).

During the three months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, no guarantees provided by IDA were called.

Segment Reporting

Based on an evaluation of its operations, management has determined that IDA has only one reportable segment.

Charge income comprises service charges and interest charges on outstanding development credit balances and guarantee fee income. For the three months ended September 30, 2012, loans to two countries generate in excess of ten percent of total charge income; this amounted to $50 million and $23 million, respectively.

The following table presents IDA's development credits outstanding and associated charge income as of and for the three months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, by geographic region:

In millions of U.S. dollars

Region	September 30, 2012		September 30, 2011

Buydown of Development Credits

During the three months ended September 30, 2012, there were no development credits purchased under the buydown mechanism.

During the three months ended September 30, 2011, two development credits with outstanding nominal value of $87 million were purchased for a present value equivalent of $42 million under the buydown mechanism by the Global Program to Eradicate Poliomyelitis Trust Funds, resulting in a $45 million write-off.

Fair Value Disclosures

The table below presents the fair value of IDA's development credits along with their respective carrying amounts as of September 30, 2012 and June 30, 2012:

In millions of U.S. dollars

	September 30, 2012		June 30, 2012
	Carrying Value	Fair Value	Carrying Value	Fair Value
Net Development Credits Outstanding	$119,637	$84,925	$116,880	$79,917

Valuation Methods and Assumptions

The fair values of development credits are calculated using market-based methodologies which incorporate the respective borrowers' Credit Default Swap (CDS) spreads and, where applicable, proxy CDS spreads. Basis adjustments are applied to market recovery levels to reflect IDA's recovery experience.

NOTE F—AFFILIATED ORGANIZATIONS

IDA transacts with affiliated organizations as a recipient of transfers and grants, administrative and derivative intermediation services as well as through cost sharing of IBRD's sponsored pension and other postretirement plans.

Transfers and Grants

Cumulative transfers and grants made to IDA as of September 30, 2012 were $14,520 million ($14,518 million—June 30, 2012). Details by transferor are as follows:

In millions of U.S. dollars

Transfers from	Beginning of the fiscal year	Transfers during the period	End of period
Total	$14,518	$ 2	$14,520
Of which from:
IBRD	12,115	-	12,115
IFC	2,230	-	2,230

Subsequent Event: On October 12, 2012, IBRD's Board of Governors approved an immediate transfer to IDA of $608 million. This transfer was received on October 16, 2012.

Receivables and Payables

As of September 30, 2012, and June 30, 2012, the total amounts receivable from or (payable to) affiliated organizations comprised:

In millions of U.S. dollars

	September 30, 2012
	Administrative Services	Pension and Other Postretirement Benefits	Derivative transactions	Total

Payable to:
IBRD	$(375)	$ —	$(7,714)	$(8,089)

Administrative Services: The payable to IBRD represents IDA's share of joint administrative expenses, net of other income jointly earned. The allocation of expenses is based upon an agreed cost sharing formula, and amounts are settled quarterly.

For the three months ended September 30, 2012, IDA's share of joint administrative expenses totaled $343 million (three months ended September 30, 2011—$301 million).

Other income: Includes IDA's share of other income jointly earned with IBRD during the three months ended September 30, 2012 totaling $35 million (three months ended September 30, 2011—$37 million). Other income is allocated on the basis consistent with that applied to joint administrative expenses.

For the three months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011, the amount of fee revenue associated with services provided to other affiliated organizations is included in Other income on the Condensed Statement of Income, as follows:

In millions of U.S. dollars

	Three Months Ended September 30,
	2012	2011
Fees charged to IFC	$7	$8
Fees charged to MIGA	1	1

Pension and Other Postretirement Benefits: The receivable from IBRD represents IDA's net share of prepaid costs for pension and other postretirement benefit plans and Post-Employment Benefits Plan assets. These will be realized over the life of the plan participants.

Derivative transactions: These relate to currency forward contracts entered into by IDA with IBRD acting as the intermediary with the market, and primarily convert donors' expected contributions in national currencies under the Sixteenth and prior replenishments of IDA's resources into the four currencies of the SDR basket.

NOTE G—DEVELOPMENT GRANTS

A summary of changes to the amounts payable for development grants for the three months ended September 30, 2012, and for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2012, is presented below:

In millions of U.S. dollars

	September 30, 2012	June 30, 2012

Disbursements	(410)	(2,398)
Translation adjustment	99	(333)
Balance, end of the period/fiscal year	$6,216	$ 6,161

For the fiscal years ending June 30, 2013 and June 30, 2012, the commitment charge rate on the undisbursed balances of IDA grants was set at nil percent.

NOTE H—PENSION AND OTHER POSTRETIREMENT BENEFITS

IBRD, along with IFC and the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency sponsor a defined benefit Staff Retirement Plan, a Retired Staff Benefits Plan and a Post-Employment Benefits Plan that cover substantially all of their staff members.

While IDA is not a participating entity to these benefit plans, IDA shares the benefit costs and reimburses IBRD for its proportionate share of any contributions made to these plans by IBRD, as part of IBRD's allocation of staff and associated administrative expenses to IDA based on an agreed cost sharing ratio.

During the three months ended September 30, 2012, IDA's share of IBRD's benefit costs relating to all the three plans totaled $78 million (three months ended September 30, 2011—$44 million).

The cost of any potential future liability arising from these plans would be shared by IBRD and IDA using the applicable share ratio.

NOTE I—COMPREHENSIVE INCOME

Comprehensive income consists of net income and other gains and losses affecting equity that, under U.S. GAAP, are excluded from net income. For IDA, comprehensive income is comprised of net income (loss) and currency translation adjustments on functional currencies. These items are presented in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

The following table presents the changes in Accumulated other comprehensive income balances for the three months ended September 30, 2012 and September 30, 2011.

As of September 30, 2012, IDA's development credits are classified as level 3 within the fair value hierarchy.

Valuation Methods and Assumptions

As of September 30, 2012 and June 30, 2012, IDA had no financial assets or financial liabilities measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis.

For valuation methods and assumptions of the following items refer to the respective notes as follows:

Investments: See Note C

Derivative assets and liabilities: See Note D

Development Credits Outstanding: See Note E

Due from Banks: The carrying amount of unrestricted and restricted currencies is considered a reasonable estimate of the fair value of these positions.
