
Acknowledgments

THIS REPORT WAS PREPARED BY THE International Finance Team of the Development Prospects Group (DECPG) and drew on resources throughout the Development Economics Vice Presidency, the World Bank operational regions, the International Finance Corporation, and the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency.

The principal author was Mansoor Dailami, with direction by Uri Dadush. The report was prepared under the general guidance of World Bank Chief Economist and Senior Vice President François Bourguignon. The main authors for each chapter were as follows:

Overview	Mansoor Dailami, with contributions from the International Finance Team
Chapter 1	Annette I. De Kleine, Mick Riordan, Hans Timmer, Kevin Barnes, and Mansoor Dailami
Chapter 2	Himmat Kalsi and Kevin Barnes
Chapter 3	Dilip Ratha, Dilek Aykut, and Eung Ju Kim
Chapter 4	William Shaw and Neil Bush
Chapter 5	William Shaw, Himmat Kalsi, Neil Bush, and Neeltje Van Horen
Chapter 6	Mansoor Dailami, with the assistance of Neil Bush and Eung Ju Kim
Appendix A	Dilip Ratha

The statistical appendix was prepared by Eung Ju Kim, Kevin Barnes, Fernando Martel-Garcia and Abhijeet Dwivedi of DECPG; the Financial Data Team of the Development Data Group (DECDG), led by Ibrahim Levent and including Nevin Fahmy, Shelly Fu, Michael Lewin, and Gloria R. Moreno; and Punam Chuhan of the Global Monitoring Secretariat. The financial flow and debt estimates were developed in a collaborative effort between DECPG and DECDG. The main macroeconomic forecasts were prepared by the Global Trends Team of DECPG, led by Hans Timmer and including John Baffes, Maurizio

Bussolo, Annette I. De Kleine, Betty Dow, Robert Keyfitz, Donald Mitchell, Mick Riordan, Shane Streifel, and Bert Wolfe. The analysis and forecasts were also prepared in conjunction with the Bank's regional chief economists: Shantayanan Devarajan (South Asia), Alan Gelb (Sub-Saharan Africa), Homi Kharas (East Asia and Pacific), Pradeep K. Mitra (Europe and Central Asia), Mustapha Nabli (Middle East and North Africa), and Guillermo Perry (Latin America and the Caribbean). Ratika Narag (Consultant) and Heather Milkiewicz (Brookings Institution) provided research assistance to appendix A and chapter 2, respectively. Background notes and papers were prepared by John Strong, Margaret Osius, Pierre-Richard Agenor, Dhruva Sahai, and Neeltje Van Horen. They are posted in the online version of the report.

The report also benefited from the comments of the Bank's Executive Directors made at an informal board meeting on March 10, 2004.

Many others from inside and outside the Bank provided input, comments, guidance, and support at various stages of the report's publication. Martin Muhleisen (International Monetary Fund), Barbara Mierau-Klein, Mihir Desai (Harvard Business School), Amarendra Bhattacharya, John Panzer, and Nemat Shafik were discussants at the Bank-wide review. In addition, within the Bank, comments and help were provided by Asli Demirguc-Kunt, Hossein Razavi, Leora Klapper, Milan Brahmbhatt, Ziad Alahdad, Ajay Chhibber, Ranjit Lamech, Barbara Lee, Clive Harris, Mark Dorfman, Shahrokh Fardoust, Coralie Gevers, Norbert Fiess, James Hanson, David Rosenblatt, Luis Serven, Mark Sundberg, Richard Newfarmer, Neil Roger, Mohammad Zia Qureshi, Raymundo Morales, Sergio Schmukler, and Marina Halac.

Outside the Bank, several people contributed through meetings, exchanges of views, and sharing perspectives on emerging issues. These include Charles Blitzer and Eliot Kalter (International Monetary Fund); Cyrus Ardalan (Barclays Capital); Robert Phillips (Cameron Mckenna);

Chris Salmon (Bank of England); Rachel Turner (U.K. Department for International Development); Kimberley Wiehl, Lenart Skarp, and Nic Kennedy (Berne Union); Janet West and Simon Scott (OECD); Curt Fitzgerald (Exxon Mobil Corporation); Deborah Fuhr (Morgan Stanley); and Paul Mielczarski and Nikolette Lekka (Credit-Suisse First Boston).

Steven Kennedy edited the report. Maria Amparo Gamboa and Katherine Rollins provided assistance to the team. Dorota Nowak managed production and dissemination activities by DECPG. Book design, editing, and production were coordinated by Cindy Fisher, Susan Graham, and Ilma Kramer of the World Bank Office of the Publisher.