

AIDFLOWS

Sources and Uses of Aid Funds

Open information always serves better decision-making. The World Bank and OECD have introduced AidFlows, a new tool to visualize, by country, the sources and uses of development aid dollars. AidFlows makes global and World Bank data on aid funding more accessible, supplies decision-critical information to policy makers and informs the global dialogue about development aid. The tool is available free of charge to the public (www.aidflows.org).

PRESENTER: Michael Koch

Director
Concessional Finance & Global Partnerships
Financial Management
World Bank

MODERATOR: David Gray

Sr. Knowledge Management Officer
Concessional Finance & Global Partnerships
World Bank

PANELISTS: Shaida Badiee

Director
Development Data Group
World Bank

Axel van Trotsenburg

Vice President
Concessional Finance & Global Partnerships
World Bank

Yasmin Ahmed

Development Cooperation Directorate
OECD

Wednesday
March 16, 2011
3:00-4:30 PM

Auditorium J1-050

World Bank J Building
18th Street & Pennsylvania Ave, NW
Washington, DC

RSVP infohopevents@worldbank.org

This event is sponsored by the InfoShop,
CFP, Aidflows, and OECD