One Billion Hungry
Can We Feed the World?

Sir Gordon Conway

“One Billion Hungry” explores the factors critical to our global food supply from the science of agriculture to the politics of food security. This discussion will address questions including: How will we feed a growing population in the face of formidable challenges? What contributions can social and natural science make? How can both government and private sector act to achieve impact in the lives of the poor?

CHAIR:
Christopher Delgado
Adviser
Agriculture & Rural Development Department
Sustainable Development Network
World Bank

AUTHOR:
Sir Gordon Conway
Professor of International Development
Imperial College
London

DISCUSSANTS:
Michael Morris
Program Coordinator
Agriculture & Rural Development
Africa Region, World Bank

Madhur Gautam
Lead Economist
Agriculture & Rural Development
South Asia Region, World Bank

Michele McNabb
President
Partnership to Cut Hunger and Poverty in Africa

Monday
October 15, 2012
12:00 - 1:30 PM
Light lunch will be provided

Auditorium J1-050
World Bank J Building
701 18th Street, NW
Washington, DC, 20433
RSVP info@worldbank.org

This event is sponsored by External Affairs and the Agriculture and Rural Development Department, SDN