

THE WORLD BANK

The World Bank, International Monetary Fund, and Inter-American Development Bank
"Partnering to Prevent Domestic Abuse"

October Domestic Violence Awareness Month

In recognition of October's Domestic Violence Awareness Month, the World Bank, International Monetary Fund, and Inter-American Development Bank invite you to an event with Gavin de Becker, bestselling author, the man Oprah Winfrey calls the Nation's leading expert on violence.

Gavin de Becker is widely regarded as our Nation's leading expert on the prediction and management of violence. He is the best-selling author of The Gift of Fear, and several other bestsellers that teach about violence and safety. His books are now published in 15 languages and have been cited in more than a hundred other books, as well as profiled in TIME and Newsweek, featured on Larry King Live, Oprah Winfrey, and 60 MINUTES, among many others.

OPENING REMARKS: Adriana Quinones

*Manager
United Nations Trust Fund to End Violence Against Women*

KEYNOTE ADDRESS: Gavin de Becker

*(appearing via live video) Bestselling Author
The man Oprah Winfrey calls the Nation's Leading Expert on Violence*

INTRODUCTION: Ngozi Okonjo-Iweala

*Managing Director
World Bank*

ANNOUNCEMENT: Maaïke M. Le Grand

*President
World Bank Family Network*

MODERATOR: Fons Marcelis

*Head
HRS Corporate Operations
World Bank*

CLOSING REMARKS: Hasan A. Tuluy

*Vice President
Human Resources
World Bank*

Monday

October 18, 2010

12:00-2:00 PM

Coffee and cookies will be served

Preston Auditorium

World Bank Main Complex

1818 H Street, NW

RSVP infoshopevents@worldbank.org

Photo Identification Required