SMALL GRANTS PROGRAM 2007

Youth Civic Engagement

Request for Proposals

This year the focus of the SmGP for Albania will be Youth Civic Engagement. Through the SmGP projects we would like to give voice to youth groups and help ensure that their needs and concerns are factored into policy and program formulation. Youth civic participation, social accountability, governance, education, social-economic development, corruption, brain drain, environment protection, etc, are some of the topics for project proposals.

About the Program

The Small Grants Program supports activities related to civic engagement by providing small grants administered through World Bank Country Offices.

The Small Grants Program seeds and supports activities that empower and enable citizens to take initiatives to enhance and influence development outcomes. Activities strengthen mechanisms for inclusion, accountability, and participation. Activities also strengthen partnerships with public sector, other civil society organizations, and the private sector.

Box 1 Outcomes of Civic Engagement

Civic Engagement can...

- Promote public consensus and local ownership for reforms and for national poverty reduction and development strategies by creating knowledge-sharing networks, building common ground for understanding, encouraging public-private cooperation, and sometimes even diffusing tensions;
- Give voice to the concerns of primary and secondary stakeholders, particularly poor and marginalized populations, and help ensure that their views are factored into policy and program decisions;
- Strengthen and leverage impact of development programs by providing local knowledge, identifying potential risks, targeting assistance, and expanding reach, particularly at the community level;
- Bring innovative ideas and solutions to development challenges at both the local and global levels;
- Improve public transparency and accountability of development activities, contributing to the enabling environment for good governance.

Before You Apply

The World Bank Small Grants Program is able to fund only a very small percentage of the requests it receives. Many requests are declined, not because they lack merit, but because they do not match either the current objectives, or the criteria of the Small Grants Program as closely as the selected proposals. Your activity may fall within the objectives and criteria, but the demand far surpasses the availability of funds.

Before applying, please take time to read the Guidelines to determine if there is a match. Also, please determine (by calling the World Bank Country Office or checking the World Bank website) whether the country in which your program operates has a Small Grants Program.

Who Can Apply?

- Civil society organizations based in Albania and working on issues of development can apply for a grant.
- Civil society organizations must be in good standing and have a record of achievement in the community and record of financial probity;

What Kinds of Activities are Supported?

The Small Grants Program supports activities whose primary objective is civic engagement. In addition:

- Activities may include, but are not limited to workshops and seminars to enhance civic engagement skills and/or knowledge; appropriate communication campaigns to influence policymaking or public service delivery; or innovative networking efforts to build the capacity of the particular sector.
- The activity should be completed within eight months year of the date the grant is awarded.
- Priority shall be given to organizations that have not been supported by the Program in previous years.

What Kind of Activities are not Supported?

Small Grants cannot fund: Research programs, formal academic training programs, operational projects, provision of basic services, ongoing institutional core support (such as equipment), scholarships, fellowships, study programs, individuals applying on their own behalf, or non-legal entities. Proposed activities should not compete with or substitute for regular World Bank instruments; the activity should be clearly distinguishable from the Bank's regular programs.

What Size of Grants are Awarded?

Most grants are in the range of $3,000 to $4,000 with a maximum of $7,000. The Small Grants Program rarely funds more than half of the proposed budget for an activity, and therefore prefers that its grants help leverage additional contributions from other sources. Applicant organizations are asked to describe how a grant from the World Bank might help them to raise matching funds from other donors.

How to Apply for a Grant?

The Small Grants Program is administered out of participating World Bank Country Offices. Not all Country Offices administer the Small Grants Program. Requests and proposals should not be sent to the World Bank Headquarters, as decisions are not made at the Headquarters.

Guidelines and application forms are available from the participating World Bank Country Office in about January. The Small Grants Program makes decisions only once a year. Applicant organizations should apply at least four to six months in advance of the date of the grant activity. Applicants are advised to read the criteria and the application form carefully before submitting an application to the participating Country Office.

Grants are usually awarded by a Small Grants Committee, convened in the World Bank Country Office. Applications are screened and reviewed to ensure that the criteria are met. The Small Grants Program gives full consideration to all proposals. The review may take up to four months to complete. Given the very large number of requests, personal visits and phone calls to the World Bank Office by the grantees are discouraged.
