

Halving poverty by 2015? Cambodia Poverty Assessment 2006.

Errata in the first printing

Acknowledgements

Chapter 8 was written by Tim Conway, Mia Hyun and Makiko Harrison (World Bank).

p. 11

The effect of land title on yields is 63 percent, not 65 percent.

p. 78

The rural poverty rate in 2004 was 39 percent (the rate of 43 percent refers to rural poverty recorded in the 1993/4 survey).

p.86

The effect of land title on yields is 63 percent, not 65 percent (see above).

p. 102

"As noted above, the pattern of public spending on health is broadly pro-poor, in that it favors primary education, ..." should read "As noted above, the pattern of public spending on education is broadly pro-poor, in that it favors primary education, ..."