Panel 1: The Institutional Foundations for Performance Budgeting

Richard Hughes

Richard Hughes is an economist in the Fiscal Affairs Department of the International Monetary Fund. Richard worked in the UK Treasury for seven years on a range of international and domestic macroeconomic and fiscal issues, most recently as the head of the 2007 Comprehensive Spending Review. He joined the IMF in April of this year following a brief interlude in Paris where he was advising the French Ministry of Finance on the preparation of their first multi-year budget.
